Drive Slow — School

School starts and the motorist again faces his responsibility for the safety of children on their way to and from the classes.

This urgency for caution has been impressed on the drivers and upon the pupils as well with the result that there have been few accidents involving children who must use the streets and rural highways during the school year.

Records show that the youngsters face much greater peril while at play than on their daily round trip to the schoolhouse and most drivers observe the caution signs fairly well.

However, the general accident toll reflects a reckless spirit on the part of some motorists and there is a danger that this will be carried into the school zone. The men behind the wheel and the law enforcement officers must both keep a close watch to see that the safety lessons of the past are not forgotten. Parents and teachers also have an obligation.

The automobile is still a death-dealing machine as the headlines of any day will testify. It requires vigilance all around to make sure that it takes a recess from its deadly work while the highways are being used by happy children.

Greeks Had No Name For This

The popular decision in Greece to restore a monarchy was reached in a strange way. Each voter was given two ballots. One ballot was marked as an affirmative vote to give King George II the throne he lost 10 years ago under the Metaxas dictatorship. The other was blank.

Whether the blank ballot was cast in that form, or marked in favor of a republic, it became a vote against restoration of the monarchy. But the ballots already marked in favor of the monarchy were votes against something too—the Communists who have been trying unsuccessfully to set up their version of a dictatorship in Greece.

Greece's decision was not between a monarchy and a republic. It was between a form of limited government under a constitution and a form of unlimited government under a policy of political expediency. No people on earth have had longer or more varied experience with forms of government, but the Greeks had no name for what was offered to them this time.

They made their decision in favor of monarchy because in the topsy-turvy state of European politics in 1946 monarchy is the liberal alternative to the kind of despotism being called republicanism. The difference is approximately the same as that between the two great powers competing for prestige in Greece. Russia, calling itself a union of republics, is a dictatorship of the Communist party. Great Britain, calling itself a constitutional monarchy, is a republic in everything but name. Greece has decided to imitate Britain.

Too Weak For Peace

There is growing indication that this country has demobilized its fighting force at such a reckless rate that even second class powers now dare to treat us with insolence. Many who believe that a similar weakness made us unable to keep the peace in 1916 and 1941 are apprehensive regarding the future.

A year ago the United States had the greatest force of arms of any nation but when the shooting stopped there was such a stampede to get back into civilian clothes and peacetime activities that all the branches have been reduced to a feeble shell of their former power.

We still have the world's greatest navy but not enough men to operate it, we have best planes but are disposing of them in wholesale lots as surplus while their fliers get back into civilian pursuits. We have only enough ground troops left to carry on occupation duties so long as everything runs smoothly.

No one who reads the day's news can believe that world affairs are so harmonious that this nation can afford to put off its armor and allow rust to consume its weapons. It is high time that conscription get under way and that this nation maintain and implement its military, naval and air effectiveness until such a time as real peace seems at least a fair probability in all parts of the world where we might be involved.

Weakness advocated by the peace-at-any-price adherents didn't keep us out of the last great wars. Isn't it worth hoping that strength will keep us out of the next one or—better still—will keep the next one from developing?

Russia Opens A Door

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko has made a proposal to the U. N. Security Council to which the other nations should agree promptly, providing the Russian is willing to allow it to be carried out to its logical conclusion.

Mr. Gromyko wants full information as to what foreign troops and military installations are now based on lands of other countries which were friendly or neutral during the war. He has opened the door for someone to offer an amendment making this disclosure applicable to all troops on foreign soil whether friendly or enemy.

The Soviet representative wants, no doubt, to know about British troops in Greece and the Near East and American troops in Iceland, China and the Pacific.

We should be very willing to tell all on condition that Moscow will be as generous in giving the facts about Russian troops in Hungary, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Finland and elsewhere behind the iron curtain.

The international situation will assume a more healthy tone when there is less secrecy. In this connection, the United States is penetrating the Russian exclusion wall in an important way through the information service it is getting to the Russia people. The beautifully printed slick paper magazines which it prints in the Russian language has increased its circulation five-fold, the State Department reveals, and powerful shortwave broadcasts are now beamed to the 50,000 receiving sets in Russia.

It may seem that 50,000 copies of a magazine and an equal number of radio sets are insignificant in reaching 150,000,000 people but knowledge has its own ways of growing and these modest beginnings are important in bringing to the Russia people the information which they need so badly and which their government has tried so desperately to withhold from them.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, September 5

THE sidereal operations for this day point to a very lively, astute and clever march upon events of a progressive and dynamic bearing upon the life, its happiness and far-reaching success, in which the home life, love affairs, social prestige and business enterprise are mutually involved.

The mentality will be keyed to excellent stimulus in this direction, which may call for travel, change, much interchange of communications and correspondence, with fresh fields or new agreements favored.

However, in all this traffic, keep keen and alert to subtlety, fraud and intrigue, or other strange undercurrents.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of splendid accomplishment, with definite and decisive progress in putting over new, clever and far-reaching objectives, in which business, financial, professional and affectional life have unusual promise with the happiest of culminations.

New contacts and agreements are in order, with travel, fresh pastures, either literally and in the field of mental or romantic adventure. Great chances with final payoffs in joyous and prosperous reactions in intimate relations.

Nevertheless, awareness and shrewdness toward strange complications or doubtful intrigues may not be amiss. Steer clear of curious alliances.

A child born on this day may be exceptionally versatile, capable and progressive, with some unusual talents, but might be easily duped or involved by confiding in strangers.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Surgery On the Heart

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

UNTIL a few years ago, no surgeon would have considered an operation to correct heart defects possible. Surgery of heart defects was limited to the vital organ in question is the constantly beating heart whose rhythm you dare not interrupt for so much as one moment.

If you will stop for a moment to picture what operation on the ever-throbbing heart means, you will readily understand why. Cutting, sewing, and repairing heart tissue is a delicate and difficult job which requires the efforts of a well-trained surgeon for success.

Imagine how enormously these difficulties are increased when the organ in question is the constantly beating heart whose rhythm you dare not interrupt for so much as one moment.

Despite Obstacles Yet, despite all this, today's surgeons have devised ways of correcting certain types of heart defects which are called congenital because they are present at the time of birth.

One of these is called patent ductus arteriosus. The ductus arteriosus is a channel that, in the unborn child, allows the blood to go from the pulmonary artery, which enters the heart on the right side, to the aorta, the great vessel on the left side of the heart through which the blood begins its journey through the body.

This opening or duct is supposed to close at birth. When it remains open, the condition is called patent ductus arteriosus and though the heart beat may appear normal when an electrocardiogram, or electric tracing of the heart beat, is made, the child does not grow and develop normally because the heart has difficulty in keeping up the circulation of the blood.

Blueness of Skin Diagnosis of patent ductus arteriosus requires careful study of the part of the doctor. Blueness of the skin, or cyanosis, which is a feature of so many heart defects, is not present, but examination with a stethoscope will reveal to the trained ear of the physician a characteristic murmur which is most marked over the right, upper part of the heart and X-ray pictures will show an enlargement of the left, lower part of the heart.

A very successful operation has been devised to correct this condition, which would otherwise be a life-long handicap.

Another congenital defect, one called pulmonary stenosis, can be corrected surgically. This condition is commonly the one responsible for our so-called "blue" babies. Here, there is narrowing or blocking of the pulmonary artery which leads from the heart to the lungs.

The helpful operation consists in joining a branch of the aorta to one of the pulmonary arteries. This in turn increases the flow of blood through the lungs.

Lining Membrane There is a lining membrane around the heart called the peri-cardium. This membrane may become inflamed as a result of rheumatic or other infection. The condition is called pericarditis. Sometimes, this leads to contraction or pressure on the heart and interferes greatly with the circulation. An operation may be performed to correct this condition by cutting an opening in the pericardium which permits the heart to bulge through, and thus relieves the pressure on the heart.

It is not a difficult matter to diagnose this type of pericarditis. In this disorder, the liver is enlarged; there is edema or swelling of the legs and sometimes a collection of fluid in the chest cavity.

Thus, it may be seen that new types of surgical operations are doing a great deal to solve the problems of persons with heart disorders.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Moscow Paper Hits American Control Of Japanese Nation

By REMBERT JAMES
MOSCOW, Sept. 4.—The official newspaper Pravda accused the United States today of stripping Japan and also of seeking to re-orientate that country into an American-ruled "watchdog against the peoples of the Far East."

The comments were part of Russia's observation of her V-J day. Prime Minister Stalin downplayed official or press mention was made of the American or British contribution to the defeat of Japan. Nor was there mention of the atomic bomb, two of which exploded at Hiroshima and Nagasaki in the last days of the Oriental phase of the war.

Russia declared war on Japan on Aug. 8, 1945, and Japan surrendered Sept. 2 after being at war with the United States since Dec. 7, 1941.

Pravda and other Russian newspapers took the line that Japan still was dangerously strong and would have fought for years had not Russia entered that war.

Pravda, mouthpiece of the ruling Communist party, said:

"Disregarding the experience of history, American imperialists count on the rebirth of Japan—but a Japan subjected to American rule in the capacity of a watchdog against the peoples of the Far East."

The article asserted that the United States, without waiting for a decision by the Allies on reparations, was stripping Japan of industrial equipment, gold, diamonds and large shipments of "strategic materials." (No mention was made of any Russian seizures of industrial equipment in Manchuria.)

The same newspaper used the occasion to heap praise on Stalin.

Eisenhower Brands Nelson Charge False

BOSTON, Sept. 4.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today struck back at Donald M. Nelson's assertion that the Army "tried to get control of our national economy" and declared:

"The Army wants no domination over anything but its own affairs. It wants no domination of government—no domination of civil authority."

Eisenhower was in Boston to attend the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Army chief of staff told newsmen, "I don't see why we should accuse people who risked all to preserve our system, of wanting to destroy it in time of peace."

Life Incomes at Retirement for General Electric Employees

Over 100,000 men and women already enrolled under new hundred-million-dollar General Electric Pension Program.

General Electric's Objectives

Three objectives of General Electric are worth repeating:

For the public, new and better products at the fairest price that General Electric research and engineering can achieve.

For General Electric men and women, a better place to work—fair wages, steady employment, and "job dividends" for work well done.

For a quarter of a million owners, a fair return on the millions in savings they have invested.

"Job Dividends"

General Electric's "job dividends"—those extras that G-E employees get in addition to wages—now include among other things, pensions at retirement, insurance, vacations with pay, awards for achievement, etc. On such "job dividends" General Electric spent more than $35,000,000 for the year 1945.

This new pension program, from General Electric's point of view, is another way to encourage the capable and efficient men and women who aid in the company's success. With their help, even greater benefits can be produced for all.

For additional details of the plan, those interested may write for the booklet, "General Electric Pension Plan." Address General Electric, Schenectady, N. Y.

About 90% of eligible G-E men and women have already signed up for Retirement Income

Within eight weeks of the new pension program's announcement, some of General Electric's nearly one hundred plants in about seventy-five communities report the following enrollment:

Bridgeport, Conn.	90.8%
Ontario, Cal.	92.5%

$100,000,000 to Start Plan

This plan provides a pension for the years already worked, at no cost to employees. For this, the company pays the entire cost, estimated at more than $100,000,000.

Thus every employee with over a year's service has a good start on his pension at retirement—at no cost to him. The longer he has worked, the bigger the sum.

To increase this retirement income as the years go on, employees and the company will jointly contribute to the fund. On the average, about two-thirds of future costs will be paid by the company.

Every Employee Eligible

Pensions are not new at General Electric. Retirement plans were begun as early as 1912. Over 40,000 employees now on the payroll are already covered. The new plan brings pensions within reach of 100,000 more. Every employee is eligible the day he completes one full year of service.

Centermen Win In Initial City Series Game At Reilly; Goodrich Loses To Little Gems In Class B Final Clash

BOWLING CENTER CAPTURES FIRST GAME OF SERIES 5-3; MEET LEETONIA AT 9 TONIGHT

A surprising Bowling Center team came from behind Tuesday night to win the Leetonia Crescents 5-3 in the first game of the city championship softball series at Reilly field before 600 chilled fans.

The superb pitching of the winning pitcher, Wayne Hahn, who set the Crescents down with one hit, was the feature of the game, which was punctuated with frequent errors by both teams.

Although the Center lads scored a run in each of the first three frames, they trailed Leetonia at the end of two innings, when the Crescents scored all of their runs in a bunch.

During the second inning the losers were gifted with four Bowling Center errors, which was the only fielding lapse by the winners. They played errorless ball all the rest of the way.

The big inning for the Center was the sixth when they punched across two tie-breaking runs to win the game. The score had been tied for two frames until Dick Hahn and Kirby Laughlin led off with bunt singles. An infield out then advanced them to scoring position. Pitcher Wayne Hahn came through in the clutch with a loud double to center field to score both his teammates.

Those two tallies were the only earned runs scored in the game. The Center quickly retired the Crescents in the seventh to win.

Hahn, walked only one man and fanned three in fashioning his one-hitter. John Clunen, Leetonia pitcher was nicked for four hits, walked three and whiffed two.

The two teams tangle again tonight at 9 p. m., with the chance that the series will end with the second game. If, however, Leetonia wins tonight's tilt, the deciding game will be played Thursday night.

Presentation of the league championship trophies will be made to the two teams between games tonight by Joe Kelley. The batting championship trophies will also be presented to Bob Miller of Sinclair and "Howdy" Kerr of Demings.

GEMS SPARKLE TO WHIP TIRE MEN IN B TILT

Win First of Class B Series 4-1 As Cain Hurls One-Hitter

The Little Gems-sparkling in the playoffs in true title form—Tuesday night spanked the favored Goodrich outfit 4-1 to trip off with the No. 1 victory in the best two out of three series for the Salem Class B softball championship.

The minor league game preceded the Bowling Center-Leetonia Class A game at Reilly stadium last night before approximately 600 fans.

The Gems won the game the hard way, coming from behind in the third frame to take a 2-1 lead over the Tire men, who cashed in for the lone run in the first frame after Harry Ehrhart had scored on a passed ball following a rousing triple to left center.

Both teams, whose lineups were speckled with Quaker football stars, played fairly well in the field and kept the game an exciting one all the way. The Gems committed four errors and the Tire men five.

The Gems scored in the third on no hits, two walks and a Goodrich error. Andy Parlow and Anio Clotti doing the tallying.

Two more Gems runs came in the sixth on a single by Ray Snyder, a walk and two errors.

Pete Cain, the losing pitcher, allowed only one hit but walked four and fanned six. Tommy Miner, who relieved him in the sixth, gave up no walks and fanned three.

Winner Clotti fanned one and walked none. He allowed four hits.

The second game of the series will be played at Reilly at 8 p. m. tonight.

CLEVELAND-MIAMI TILT TO BE FIRST ALL-AMERICA FRAY

Professional Loop Opener To Draw Large Throng Friday Night

BOWLING GREEN, Sept. 4.—Highly encouraged by the showing of his youthful squad against the Brooklyn Dodgers before an overflow crowd at Akron Friday, Coach Paul Brown is now preparing his charges for their All-America Conference opener at Cleveland Friday evening against the Miami Seahawks.

While there were many pleasing aspects in the Browns' 35-20 victory over Dr. Mal Stevens' club which had played two games prior to meeting Cleveland, one of the highlights was the team's ability to keep its poise when it was on the wrong end of a 13-0 score early in the second period.

The Cleveland line, outcharged by its opponents early in the contest, finally settled down midway through the second cant and after that held the upper hand.

Lewis Comes Through
With Otto Graham still unfamiliar with the offense because of his participation in the College All Stars game, the brunt of the signal calling fell on young Cliff Lewis, a Cleveland boy who played with Duke and Fleet City. The youngsters came through with a great performance that would have done credit to a more seasoned campaigner.

In the second period when the Browns trailed by 13 points, Lewis hurled six passes and completed five to account for all of the yardage in a 73 yard touchdown march. In the brief time he was in the ball game, Graham threw touchdown passes to Mac Speedie and George Young.

Tommy Colella, the ex-Cleveland Ram, also showed up well with several fancy runs and a beautiful punt that rolled dead on the one-half yard line. Particularly outstanding on the defense were Bill Willis, Jim Daniell and Lou Rymkus.

Although the Cleveland-Brooklyn affair was billed as a pre-season exhibition, the boys really played for keeps and several penalties for unnecessary roughness were meted out by the officials.

Southern Arkansas has a reserve of 400,000,000 barrels of petroleum, according to estimates.

REICH, BROBANDER TO OPERATE ALLEYS

Masonic Temple Alleys To Be Under New Operators This Season

Announcement was made today by the Masonic lodge building committee that Raymond Reich and Henry Brobander will be in charge of the temple bowling alleys and leagues for the coming winter season.

Reich and Brobander, both Salem men, plan an extended bowling program at the temple this year with four leagues already organized and an opening on Tuesday night yet available for a fifth league.

So far the National league of former years has not reorganized and that vacancy leaves Tuesdays free at the alleys, the new operators said.

The American league on Monday, a Woman's league on Wednesday, the Electric Furnace league on Thursday and a Lisbon league on Friday have indicated intentions of utilizing the four-alley setup on those nights.

A new crew of pin boys has been secured, Reich said today, and operations at the temple are expected to get under way on Sept. 16.

Reich and Brobander are seeking a fifth league for Tuesday night participation and request that anyone interested contact them as soon as possible regarding the opening.

Brooklyn Falls Upon Old Philadelphia Cousins 6-4

By JACH HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers fell to their old "cousins" from Philadelphia last night to clip a half game off St. Louis' lead.

The Cardinals were idle, so the Dodgers moved to within two games of the National league lead. Each has 24 games to play.

Kirby Higbe, Manager Leo Duracher's "stopper," showed signs of wear and tear in earning his 14th victory of the season over the Phillies 6-4.

The Phils spurred for three in the eighth, and Hank Behrman saved the day.

For what was supposed to have been an open date in both leagues, yesterday was a busy day with six games.

Lefty Bob Chipman shut out Pittsburgh with six hits, 2-0, as Chicago's Cubs continued their belated drive which probably will do no more than assure them of finishing third ahead of Boston.

Tommy Holmes was the big gun in Boston's 5-4 shade over the New York Giants, the Braves' outfielder banging a bases-loaded double during a four-run rally in the seventh inning that knocked out Starter Dave Koslo.

Although Bill Lee received credit for the win, Billy Southworth used Jim Wallace and Mort Cooper to halt a Giant uprising in the late stages.

Chicago and Detroit struggled for 16 innings before the White Sox managed a 4-3 verdict. The Tigers broke a 2-2 tie with a run in the first of the 16th but Chicago came back to score twice and beat Stubby Overmire who pitched to only two batters, but allowed two hits.

Cleveland climbed into a fifth-place tie with Chicago on a double win over St. Louis, 5-3 and 7-3. Lou Boudreau had to use Bobby Feller on relief to save the opener.

The New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox, Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators were not scheduled in the American and St. Louis and Cincinnati were idle in the National.

Tommy Holmes, Braves—Doubled with bases loaded in four-run seventh-inning rally to defeat New York, 5-4.

20 DIE IN FRENCH
AIR LINER CRASH

PARIS, Sept. 4.—Twenty persons were killed in the crash of an Air France liner taking off from Paris for London today, bringing to 49 the total number of dead in French plane accidents in three days.

The latest crash, which killed 17 of 21 passengers and three of the crew of five, occurred at 9:15 a. m. when the Paris-London liner failed to clear a factory roof at Le Bourget, Air France announced.

At the same time, the line confirmed the death of 17 passengers and five crew members when another of its planes crashed just 16½ hours before, 21 miles out of Copenhagen.

FEAR FROST

the month totalled 1.94 inches as compared to the average for Augusts of 2.87 inches.

August High Was 90

Highest reading during the month was 90 recorded on Aug. 5 and the lowest was the 35 recorded on Aug. 30.

The month had six rainy days, 13 clear, 14 partly cloudy and four cloudy. Sixty-five per cent sunshine was recorded, Copeland's report shows.

The observer says the year so far is 3.84 inches short in rainfall, explaining partially the unusually low condition of the underground water table.

Farmers are experiencing difficulty with early fall ploughing and the preparation of the seed beds for wheat. Pastures are short and the corn crop will require two to three weeks for a good crop before killing frosts arrive.

Below Average

The final two weeks of August, Copeland said, were 10 degrees below average.

Hottest August on record was the 73.4 average recorded in 1900 and the coolest was August 1927, when the average was 62.8 degrees, just one degree lower than the past month.

Highest August temperature on record was 103 in August, 1903 and the coolest was 34 in August, 1923.

August 1945 averaged 67.4 degrees with 1.04 inches of rainfall and 70 per cent sunshine.
